

Lauren Haley is a violinist, violist, speaker, and pedagogy expert based in Sienna. A Violin Performance graduate of the Eastman School of Music, Haley is the author of Kids Aren't Lazy: Developing Motivation & Talent Through Music (2018).

Lauren Haley Studios aims to inspire a lifelong affinity for music in students and families, to demonstrate advanced repertoire and technique, to encourage students to persevere through musical and academic challenges, and to support the achievement of students' highest musical goals.

Ms. Haley's students have led their school orchestras as principal players, represented their districts at Region, Area, and State, and performed in music programs in Houston and across the country.

Ms. Haley lives in Sienna with her husband, Jake, and dog, Winnie. Media interviews can be found at <https://laurenhaleystudios.com/meettheartists>
